

COVID PLEDGE AT CIHTS, SARNATH, VARANASI

Keeping in view the directives of the Ministry of Culture, Govt. of India, Hon'ble Vice Chancellor of the Institute Prof. Geshe Ngawang Samten administered the COVID pledge to the employees and students of the students on 15th and 16th October respectively in the Library lawn of the Institute at 4:30 pm. The program was organised in the open lawn maintaining the physical distancing, face mask and other required precautions. Before administering the pledge, Hon'ble Vice Chancellor addressed the gathering and said that this unprecedented situation arises due to spread of COVID-19 across the world requires the unprecedented efforts from each and every one in the society. In prevailing situation it's not only necessary to take care of physical and mental health ourself and our family members but also to extend the help and support to needy peoples of our society. To be aware and alert and to make aware and alert to the peoples in our contact is the only solution to combat the situation arisen due to spread of this deadly virus. One more thing which is utmost required for our mental well being is not to get panic and do not spread the unfiltered, unauthenticated sensational news by any means. He added that maintaining the personal hygiene, physical distancing and wearing the mask and sanitising or washing hands and maintain positive attitude are the necessities of the time and we must follow the standard operating procedures at our workplaces and also out site the offices. The situation at the moment is more serious then it was during March and April. But since both life and livelihood are equally important, work places and bussiness centres have to be opened so that people can earn thier livelihood. Therefore, every body has to be very cautious, vegilent and carefull every where. He also gave instructions to be followed by staff and students separately.

He further said that the Institute has taken many measures for the prevention of the pandemic and with the support of every member of staff and students, so far we have managed to avoid spread of covid-19 within the campus for which he thanked all.
